

XM Satellite Radio Instant Traffic & Weather reports are a wonderful service. I enjoy them and they also make me much more productive at my job. I can now avoid many lengthy traffic jams when driving to client meetings which means less wasted commute time.

The FCC should definately allow innovative satellite radio local programing to continue. The AM/FM broadcast industry could use some competition from XM and other innovative satellite and Internet broadcasters.

- Erik Lundberg